

County chamber announces award nominations for nonprofits

From staff reports

The Prince William Chamber of Commerce announced the 2011 Agnes L. Colgan Award nominees last Friday.

These nonprofit organizations have been nominated for their outstanding dedication to our community and contributions toward making Prince William an even better place in which to live, work, play and do business. A winner from each category will be announced at Prince William Chamber of Commerce the Not-for-Profit Awards & Expo luncheon on Feb. 22 at noon at the Hylton Boys & Girls Club.

Nominees in the category of education are: "Arts on the Go," a program of the Center for the Arts of Greater Manassas & Prince William County, Asaph Dance Ensemble, GFWC Dominion Woman's Club, The House Inc., Life-Long Learning Institute-Manassas, NOVA Manassas Symphony Orchestra, Hylton Performing Arts Center, Joe 15 Team, The Robotics Program of Prince William County Public Schools Education Foundation, Woodbridge Dance Company and Youth for Tomorrow.

Nominees in the category of Health & Human Services category are: American Cancer Society, American Diabetes Association, Be a Santa to a Senior program of Home Instead Senior Care, CASA of Greater Prince William, Didlake, Inc., Greater Prince William Community Health Center, Manassas Midwifery and Women's Health Center, Medical Missionaries, Northern Virginia Family Services, The Prince William County Bar Foundation, Inc., Skillsource Group, Transitional Housing BARN, Inc., Two Tiny Hands, Yes You Can! Young Lady Young Man.

To register for the luncheon, call 703-368-6600 or e-mail cgilbertsilva@pwchamber.org.